Early Childhood Special Education Certificate Program

Erikson's Early Childhood Special Education graduate certificate will prepare early childhood educators to meet the learning and developmental needs of diverse learners, including those with disabilities and developmental delays.

This specialization will enhance teachers' practice in assessment, instruction, and collaborating with families. Students will be prepared for many positions, including blended general/special education classrooms, inclusive classrooms, and itinerant special education teaching positions.

Our online certificate program is designed for candidates who have completed a bachelor's degree, with or without licensure (Professional Educator License). Candidates should currently work in early childhood learning environments and seek to develop expertise in special education for working with children from preschool through 2nd grade.

For Illinois licensed teachers, administrators, or other school professionals seeking to add the special education endorsements for birth through 2nd grade; specifically, the LBS1 (kindergarten-2nd grade) and Early Childhood Special Education Letter of Approval (birth-preschool) you may be able to complete the program in less than 18 hours. Candidates must pass the LBS1 content test to add the LBS1 endorsement to their PEL.

Why Erikson?

- As an admitted certificate student, you may be eligible for federal student aid.
- Access to dedicated advisors, library, student services, job board, and career workshops.
- Expand your expertise beyond this certificate to one of our master's degree programs.
- Develop close and collaborative relationships with faculty from many disciplines.

Erikson Institute's Special Education certificate program can enhance your teaching practice by preparing you to understand individual children's strengths and needs with the confidence to implement teaching and learning strategies that can help every child succeed."

Pamela Epley, PhD,
Associate Clinical Professor
